TEACHING ECONOMICS: INSTRUCTION AND CLASSROOM BASED RESEARCH
29th ANNUAL CONFERENCE
Program

Thursday, February 15, 2018

4:00pm - 9:00pm	Registration
6:00pm - 8:00pm	Reception - wine, cheese, hors d'oeuvres
7:30pm	"RMU's New UPMC Events Center: The Business and Logistics of Re-Building a Conference Center on a University Campus"

Friday, February 16, 2018

7:30am	Conference Registration
8:00am	Continental Breakfast
8:45am	Welcome
9:00am	"Delivering Econometrics Skills within a Business Analytics Curriculum" Jeff Prince, Indiana University
10:00am	Break
10:15am	Concurrent Sessions
11:00am	Break
11:15 am	"Financial Diaries: How American Families Cope in a World of Uncertainty" Jonathan Morduch, New York University
12:15pm	Lunch
1:15pm	'Identifying Disengagement: How Can Technology Help?' Karen Gebhardt, Colorado State University
2:15pm	Break
2:30pm	Concurrent Sessions
3:15pm	Break
3:30pm	Concurrent Sessions
4:15pm	Break
4:30pm	Concurrent Sessions
5:30pm	Cocktail Reception
6:15pm	Dinner
7:15pm	"To Blend or Not To Blend: Student Engagement and Outcomes in the World of Digital Learning", Carlos Asarta, University of Delaware

Saturday, February 17, 2018

8:00am	Continental Breakfast
9:00am	"McGraw-Hill Education: Technology for Learning" Carlos Asarta, University of Delaware and Katie Hoenicke, McGraw-Hill Education
10:00am	Break
10:15am	Concurrent Sessions
11:00am	Break
11:15am	Concurrent Sessions