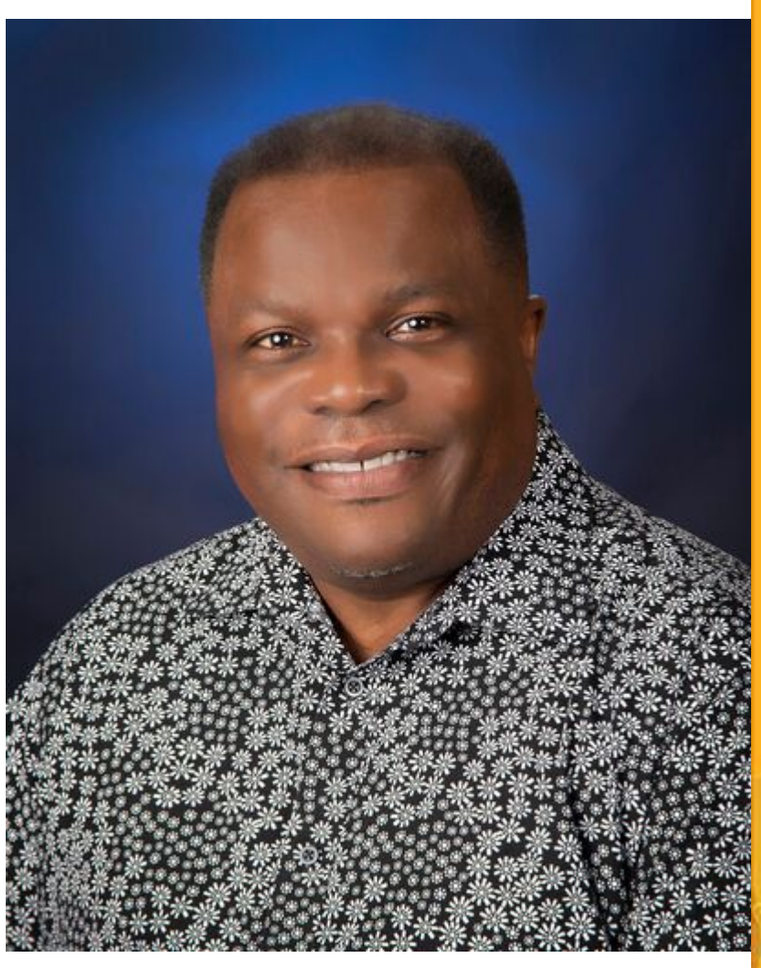
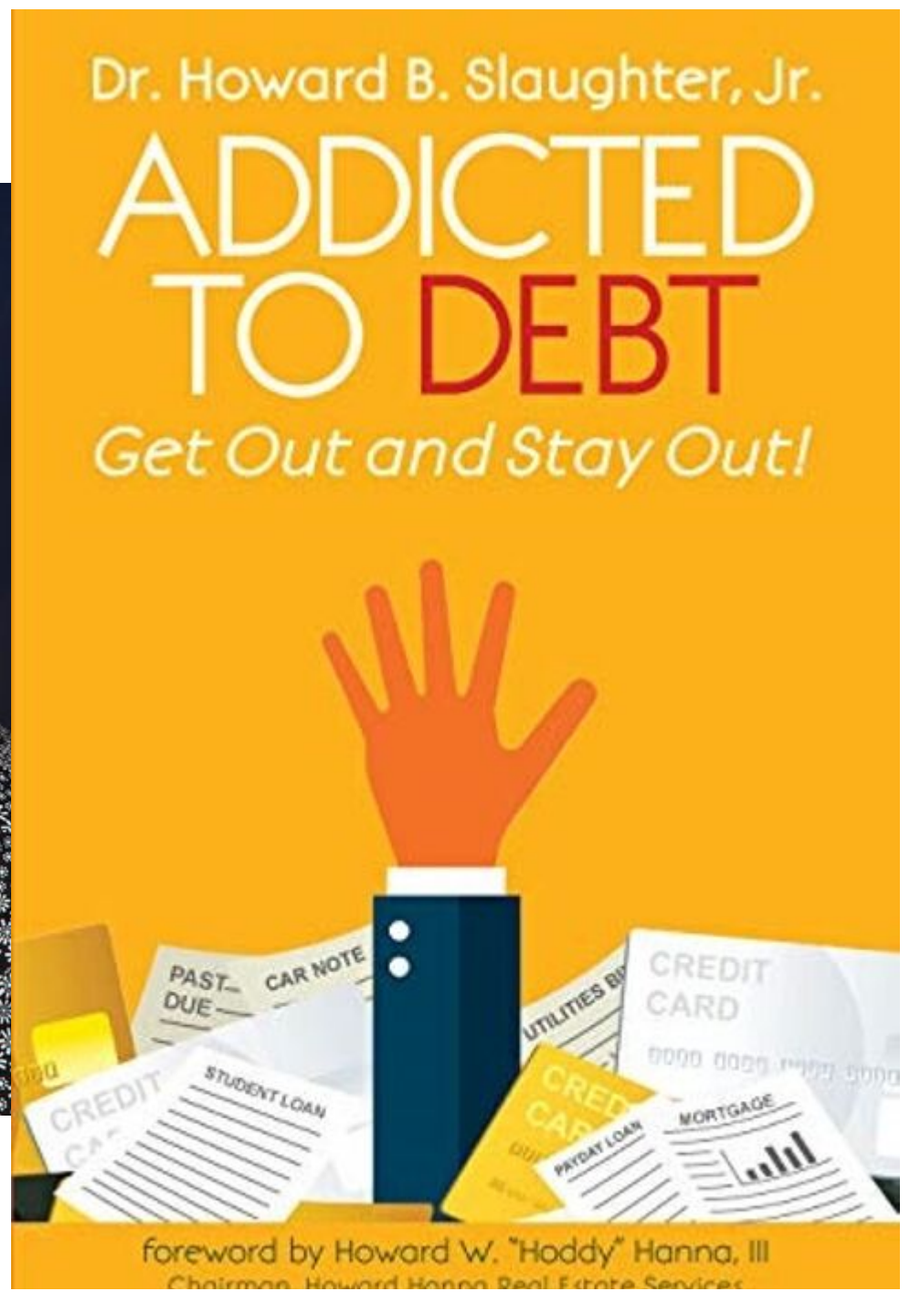
You're Invited

Book signing with Dr. Howard B. Slaughter, Jr.

Dr. Slaughter received the Distinguished Alumnus Award in 2009 from the School of Communications & Information Systems at Robert Morris University

Thursday, October 17th
12:30 - 2:00 pm
2nd floor Nicholson Rotunda





Discounted rate for RMU students, alumni, faculty and staff from 17.99 to 14.99. Debit and charge will be accepted.

About the Author:

Dr. Howard Slaughter is President & Chief Executive Officer of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Pittsburgh. He is also author of the book Addicted to Debt: Get Out and Stay Out, which is also available on Amazon, as an e-book.

Prior to joining Habitat, he was an entrepreneur and President & CEO of his own company, Christian Management Enterprises, LLC, a business management and real estate consulting firm. His banking career began at Equibank, where he was an Assistant Vice President. He then became Vice President of Community Development at Dollar Bank, where he led the financial institution to its first ever Outstanding CRA rating from the Office of Thrift Supervision. Howard was Senior Vice President of Public Policy & Development at the Epilepsy Foundation of Western and Central Pennsylvania.

Dr. Slaughter holds a Bachelor of Arts from Carlow University, an MBA from Point Park University, a Master's degree in Public Management from Carnegie Mellon University's H. John Heinz, III School of Public Management and a Doctor of Science degree in Information Systems and Communications from Robert Morris University.